

The Kvinna till Kvinna Foundation's established purposes are to conduct projects in regions of war and armed conflict that promote women's self-reliance and self-esteem, women's psychosocial and/or physical health; or that contribute to promoting women's participation in the building of a democratic civil society. Additionally the foundation aims to foster studies and research on the effects of war and armed conflict on women as well as bring to the attention of the public facts and information about the effects of war and to build public support for peaceful conflict resolution through the use of civil means. Kvinna till Kvinna's vision is a world with sustainable peace based on democracy and gender equality, in which conflicts are managed through non-military means. It envisions a world where human rights for women, men, girls and boys are respected, and all people are able to feel safe and secure. Women should have power and influence over decisions, and be involved as actors in the economic and political development of society to the same extent as men.
